Range Map Parking

Officers will park on the street outside of the entrance.
We will have staff driving carts to assist in transporting you around the range.

Range Etiquette Range Commands

Before a course of fire, you will hear:

- “Make Ready” to prepare the firearm
- “Are You Ready?” which the shooter confirms with a “Yes” or silence
- “Stand By” before the start signal

At the end of the course of fire, you will hear:

- “If finished, unload and show clear” visually inspect your chamber and magwell to ensure they are clear.
- “If clear, hammer down, holster” you must pull the trigger on an empty chamber before holstering.

Range commands you may hear during the course of fire:

- “STOP” immediately cease all shooting, movement, and to keep the firearm pointed in a safe direction. This command can be given by anyone on the range and can be for reasons outside of the shooter’s control.
- “Finger” immediately remove your finger from the trigger and place it along the frame of the firearm Your finger should be on the frame during movement or firearm manipulation, like reloading.

Range Etiquette Cold Range

We will be running a “Cold Range”, “Condition 4”.

All officers will enter via the check-in tent.

After checking in on the master tablet, you will be directed to the safe table where you can unload your firearm and remove your duty ammo from your magazines.

Please do not handle your firearm after this point. You may put match ammunition in your magazines at any time, but your firearm will remain in the holster and cold until you are told to “Make Ready” by a Range Officer (red shirts) at the stage start position.

Stages Ammunition

We have created four interesting stages for you to enjoy.

All stages are for competition.

There will be a warm up stage at the demo bay where you can also try firearms from Springfield Armory and Ruger.

Everyone who registered as “Competition”, will be provided 250 rounds of ammunition to manage as you see fit for the day.

In addition to the pistol stages, we are hosting a shotgun flurry. A Shotgun Flurry is a fast-paced event where shooters engage a rapid series of flying clay targets. Shotgun and ammunition are provided—no experience or equipment needed.
